

Use of FADN data in CAP evaluation in Flanders

Linn Dumez

RDP 2007-2013 and RDP 2014-2020

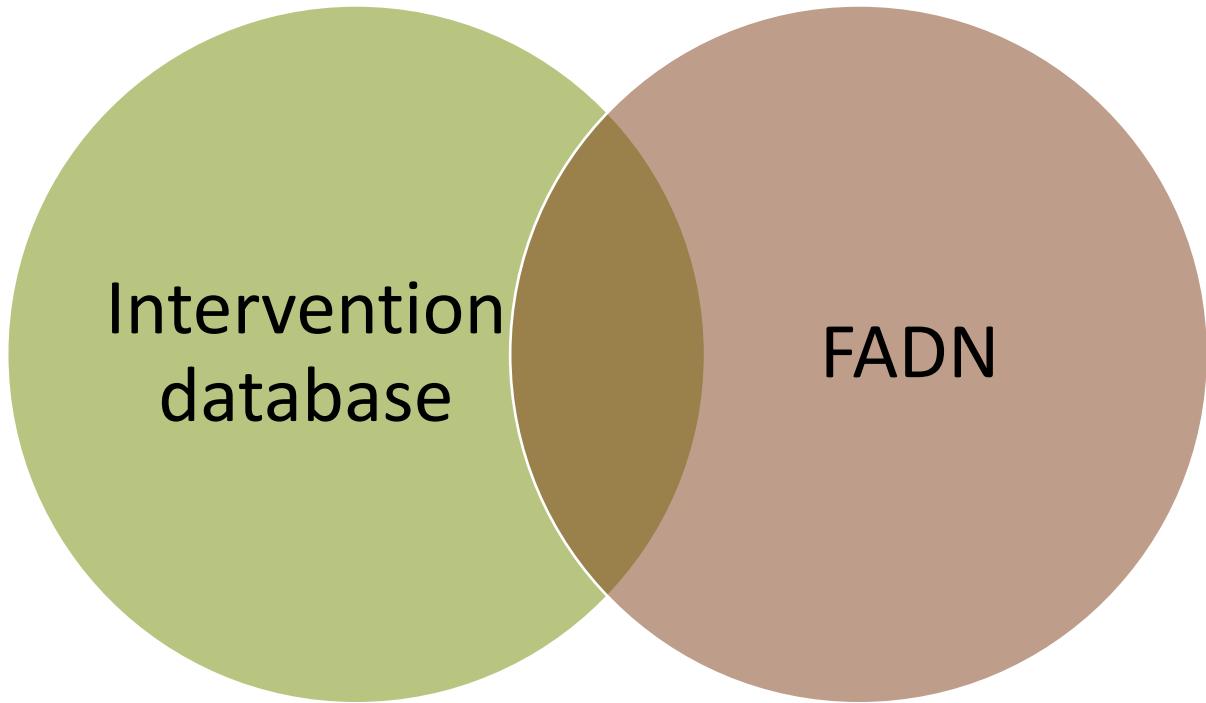

Investment support intervention

- ▶ Farmers can receive funding for different kinds of investments aiming to make their holdings more economically, ecologically and socially sustainable
- ▶ Limited but dynamic list with eligible types of investments
- ▶ Different support rates

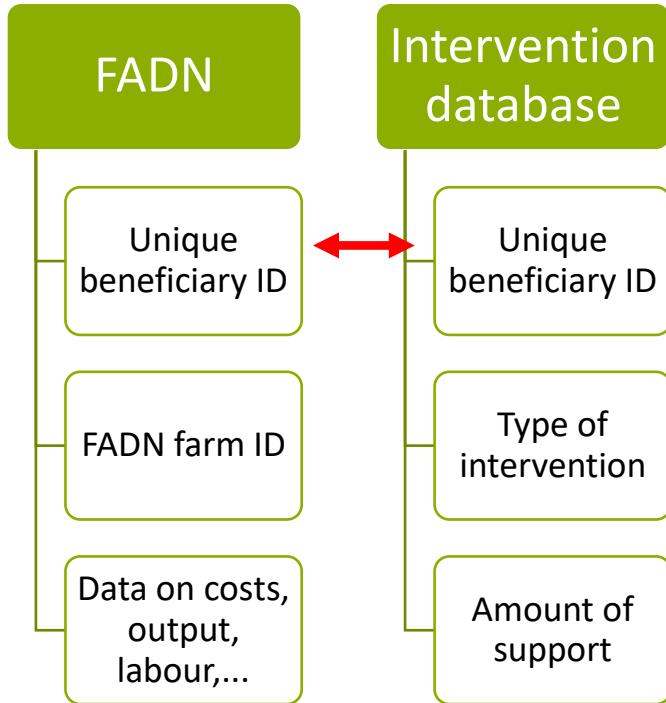

Brief overview of the evaluation

- ▶ Evaluation RDP 2007-2013 and RDP 2014-2020
 - Berekening economische impact PDPO III | Landbouw & Visserij
- ▶ Economic impact of RDP investment support
 - Impact on total output, total costs, FTE, gross value added, total output per FTE, gross value added per FTE
- ▶ Data sources:
 - Intervention database
 - FADN
- ▶ 'in house' databases!
- ▶ Method: fixed effects dynamic panel regression

Data sources

Database variables

▶ FADN data

- Total output (SE131)
- Total cost (SE275)
- FTE (SE010)
- Total investment support (VAR369)
- Over several years

▶ Intervention database

- Type of investment (focus area)
- Complete list of investments supported

Advantages of combining data sources

- ▶ Information about economic variables
- ▶ Time series of data
- ▶ Data of farms with and farms without investment support

Challenges in combining data sources

- ▶ Common ID needed
- ▶ Time delay of FADN data
- ▶ Variation in FADN sample

Future plans

► CAP strategic plan evaluations

- Evaluation of the aid amount of agri-environment and climate-related commitments, by using FADN data on gross balance of crops
- Evaluation of the effect of some interventions on income by using FADN data on income, costs, outputs, etc
